

Rocky Mountain Farmers Union Path to Policy

One of the best things about Rocky Mountain Farmers Union is that it derives its policy, not from the top down, but rather democratically from the input of its members every year. As a member, you have several options to bring forward a policy idea for consideration.

You can work with your county chapter, go through your policy committee member, email submissions to our Government Relations Department via the policy change proposal form, or propose your idea directly to RMFU delegates at our Annual Convention in Greeley, Colorado from November 19th to November 21st.

Details

The Policy Committee is composed of the RMFU Vice President, one RMFU Board Member, a representative from each of RMFU’s seven districts, and a youth representative. They go through the policies from last year and discuss any updates to the policy book they would like to recommend for consideration at the annual convention. If you have questions or suggestions for the Policy Committee, please feel free to reach out to the Policy Committee representative for your district.
